No

Syllabus should improve according to the current scenarios in each field, not some theories and histories, Syllabus should be more technical and practical and students should allowed more space for practical works

Nothing

Prioritising exams over students safety and health isn't the way to go.

Adopt syallubus which current industry require. Focus more on data structure algorithm and project related course

Adapt the syllabus to industry relevant topics

Please give more time to students for preparing other exams like gate

The syllabus is pretty outdates. Especially Computer Graphics lab which uses
